

Ships offer a large amount of play potential. They can be designed as large container vessels, fighting or cruise ships to name but a few. We also have a range of pirate ships which offer more in the way of imagination and role playing, and they can incorporate any play accessory.

They are designed to your size and budget specifications, but it is important that they look like a boat and that the lines are right. This ensures maximum appeal to adults and children alike and gives the whole play area a more living character. Realism is hugely evocative when a theme is being followed, and the play equipment should really bring out the character of what it is meant to be, to encourage a child's interest and experience of that item. The pictures show a large container ship, in the style of a well known Cardiff Bay leviathan.

We can also back up the theme with educational pictures, sound loops, revolving discs etc.
